A DORSETSHIRE VILLAGE IN FLAMES.

THE PROFES HOWELESS.

A fire broke out early on the 20th inst. in the village of Sixpenny Handley, an isolated but large village fitten miles from Salisbury. There were no fire-extinguishing appliances at hand, and owing to the drought no water could be obtained. The conflagration sensequently raged practically unchecked for several hours. Over sixty houses were burnt to the ground. The villagers in many instances were unable to save anything from that houses, and about 200 of the poor people must be homeless and in dire distress unless promptly relieved. The school-house at Sixpenny Handley in being prepared for the temporary accommodation of the burnt-out villagers, and help is being sent from Cranbourne, the mearest town and telegraph office. BOATING FATALITY ON LAKE ZURICH.

SEVEN GIRLS DROWNED.

A sad boating fatality occurred the other morning on Lake Zurich. A number of young ladies, pupils at the school attached to the convent at Wurmspach, were out for a sail on the lake, when the boat capsized, and in a moment fifteen people were struggling in the water. Some were able to seize repes and some floating wood, and supported themselves until they were rescued by boats which came to their help; but soven of the young girls sank before assistance could reach them. Five of the girls were natives of Switzerland, the other two being Germans.

A PRIZE FIGHTER SENT TO PENAL SERVITURE.
Woolf Bendoff, a well-known prize fighter, was tried at Liverpool Assizes on Thursday by Justice Cave for stabbing Mr. W. Allerton, proprietor of a public-house frequented by sporting men.—Bendoff called at the tavern, was refused drink, and finally ejected from the premises. Later in the day Bendoff and another man engaged in a fight outside the tavern, and Allerton incurred the displeasure of the former by separating the combatants.

bones were smanner in, are serious injuries about the head and body, and her life is despaired of. After the woman had become insensible the man made a violent attack with a hammer upon his son, aged 15, who, however, managed to escape by jumping from the top to the bottom of a staircase, after which he gave information to the police of what had occurred. Marrs was arrested and taken to the police station, where he subsequently attempted to commit suicide by strangling himself with his necknowled. When discovered he was unears. The reason for Marrs' attack upon his wife and son has not yet transpired.

KILLED BY A CRICKET BALL.

At the Homerton Infirmary, on Turreday, Dr. R. Macdonald, M.P., held an inquiry into the circumstances attending the death of Charles Thomas Clayton, aged 33, a cigar maker, lately residing at 33, Canal-road, Kingsland.—Louis Anderson, a bank clerk, residing at Dr. Barnardo's, Stepney Causeway, deposed that he was playing in a cricket match (Oval C.C. v. Jubilee C.C.) at Victoria Park on the previous Saturday afternoon.
Witness was batting, and received a ball to leg, which he played, the result being that it struck the deceased on the right temple and knocked him down. The deceased was merely a spectator, and was standing about twenty yards from the wicket.—Dr. Gordon deposed that he saw the deceased at 6.39 p.m. ou knocked him down. The deceased was merely aspectator, and was standing about twenty ards from the wicket.—Dr. Gordon depose that he saw the deceased at 6.30 p.m. of Saturday, and he died on Sunday evening a 5 o'clock. There was a mark on the righ temple, where the ball had struck, and from this point a fracture of the skull started. This ran round to the left side where there was a star fracture, and the fracture than went on to the bast. The brain was lacerated and there was also a double fracture of the left thigh bone, whice witness was of opinion was the result of the and requested the coroner to write t London County Council informing then the jury were of opinion that there we many pitches in Victoria Park for crid

Edward East, 16, the son, is in hospital in a critical condition. A grandson, age 10, also had some pudding, but he recovered sufficiently to go home.—An inquest on the two hodies was opened at the King's Head, Church-street, West Ham, before Mr. C. C. Lawis.—Eli East, son of the decessed, said he saw them at Stratford, on the End inst., and left at a quarter to 1, when they appeared to be quite well. At about a quarter past 6 o'clock he was sent for by his suster, who asked him to go at once to Stratford, as she thought their father and mother were dying. He went, and found his father in bed and his mother in a chair downstairs. They appeared to be very ill. He asked his man, and found that the whole of the symptoms were of arsenical poisoning.—The inquiry was adjourned.

SIR ÉDGAR BOEHM AND HIS MODELLER. In the Queen's Bench Division on Friday, before the Lord Chief Justice and a special jury, Mesers. Richard Mills and others, executors to the famous sculptor, Sir Edgar, Boehm, sought to recover from Louis Finli, a modeller in the employ of Sir Edgar, 83 moulds of life-size busts, statuettes, &c., including moulds of her Majesty the Queen, the Princess Alice, General Gordon, Lord Napier of Magdala, the Duke of Wellington, Lady Derby, Carlyle, &c. The defendant admitted the possession of the moulds, but the said he had a lien upon them for storage to be amount of 2456.—The story told by Mr. Lynch, who appeared for the defendant, was quite romantic. He said the defendant, was quite romantic. He said the defendant, was quite romantic. He said the defendant, was a very clever sculptor's modeller, but very lilterate, came to England between thirty and forty years ago, and at first made his living by modelling in the street. He was noticed by Mr. Boehm, then a young man and a struggling artist himself. Boehm was struck with the cleverness of young Finlin whose acquaintance he at once made, and from that time (1899) down to the day of his death, in December, 1899, the great sculptor and the modeller worked together as master and man, Sir Edgar always treating Finlin whose acquaintance had one made, and from that time (1899) down to the day of his death, in December, 1899, the great sculptor and the modeller worked together as master and man, Sir Edgar always treating Finlin whose acquaintance for the defendant of hould be dealt justly with as regards the costs of storage.
